DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 3/6/01 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein for the other documents has not been considered. It is unclear which version of the application 09/455,186 should be included since the specification has been amended. Document AG appears to be the wrong document. Documents AF and AH should be referred to as patents. Copies for the AI-AM references should be submitted.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: application numbers and attorney's docket numbers such as ones on page 13 and page 15 should be updated and the boxes appearing on page 13 should be removed.

Appropriate correction is required.

3. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2663

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 3-4, 9 and 11-12 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Schenkel.

Regarding claims 1 and 9, Schenkel discloses a method and unit comprising associating one of multiple priority levels with a transmission (i.e. col. 11, ll. 47-68; high priority packets train and low priority packet train) and controlling the amount of time the transmission occupies the medium based on the associated priority level (i.e. col. 11, ll. 47-68, col. 25, ll. 22-34, because if high priority always has access, then the low priority packets may never have access, therefore there is an EOR(0) to control the amount of time high priority has access to the medium and amount of time low priority has access to the medium).

Regarding claims 3 and 11, Schenkel discloses maintaining a frame length limit for all of the priority levels and ensuring that limit is not exceeded (i.e. col. 11, ll. 47-68; every priority level packets have limit frame length access, and attention is paid to make sure they do not exceed the length assigned to make sure other lower priorities packets will also have access sometimes).

Regarding claims 4 and 12, Schenkel discloses transmission of frames (i.e. fig. 19, frame i-2 to frame i+2) and control of the medium (i.e. fig. 19; high priority has control of the medium at high priority round and low priority packets have control during low priority rounds).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schenkel in view of Shaffer et al.

Schenkel discloses maintaining a frame length limit for all of the priority levels and ensuring that limit is not exceeded (i.e. col. 11, ll. 47-68; every priority level packets have limit frame length access, and attention is paid to make sure they do not exceed the length assigned to make sure other lower priorities packets will also have access sometimes.) Schenkel does not specifically disclose not maintaining a frame length limit for highest of priority level. However, Shaffer et al. teaches that a higher level will preempt the transmission of lower priority level. Therefore, it would have been obvious to an ordinary person skilled in the art at the time of the invention to realize that there is no need to have a limit for highest priority because it preempt all other transmissions as taught by Shaffer et al. with the method and system of Schenkel in order to ensure the highest priority packets will always get the destination the fastest.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 5-8 and 13-15 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Weizman is cited to show methods of collision control in CSMA LAN; Schrader et al. is cited to show a communication network having a dormant polling protocol; Pyhalammi is cited to show a method for assigning priority to traffic between LAN interconnected via a backbone network; and Crisler et al. is cited to show time slot allocation method.
